

RUNNER-UP, under 12 years

Summer

by William Crosthwaite Eyre

It's time for England's

Flowers to unleash bud

And petal for true beauty.

It is time for bug and bird to come and enjoy the summer.

The sun comes out

so slowly like a tiger stalking its prey.

It's like a spark hovering in space so bright and loving.

So all life knows

that it is summer.